Election/Restrictions

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-7, drawn to a measuring equipment.

Group II, claim(s) 8 and 9, drawn to a method for conducting a measurement.

Group III, claim(s) 10-13, drawn to a program recording medium for executing a measurement.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The three groups share a common technological feature, which is a cartridge having a reagent that is sealed with a sealing material on which an information carrier is attached, and a means for storing measurement conditions. However, this technological feature is well-known in the art. Hammer et al. (US 2001/0051377 A1) discloses an automated instrument comprising such a cartridge (see [0008] and [0061]). Although Hammer et al. do not explicitly disclose that the analytical instrument comprises a measurement condition storage means, it is inherent that it comprises a measurement condition storage means that stores the measurement conditions carried by the information carrier. If the instrument did not comprise a measurement condition storage means, then the instrument would not be able to make the transition from reading the measurement conditions imbedded in the information carrier to conducting the measurements according to the measurement conditions.

Because a cartridge having a reagent sealed with a sealing material on which an information carrier is attached, and a measurement condition storage means are well-known in the art, they are not special technical features and therefore lack of unity exists among the three groups of claims.

A telephone call was made to Bryan Wong on 04/07/06 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Paul S. Hyun whose telephone number is (571)-272-8559. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 8AM-4:30PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Jill Warden can be reached on (571)-272-1267. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
